

Andrius Adomaitis

Junior software developer

Hi I'm Andrius, in 2022 I decided to change career path and turn to software development. In July I decided to quit my job as production manager and started to study on my own. Started from the very basics of HTML and CSS and spent month and a half. Later I chose 4 months long Java courses from basics to Spring Boot framework (JUnit, Hibernate, JPA, Spring Security, Swagger, Thymeleaf etc.)) and additional tools such as MySQL, Postman, Git, GitHub, Bootstrap. I have experience on IDE's such as Eclipse, IntelliJ and Visual Studio Code. In December started learning basics of JavaScript and React framework plus Node JS. Successfully finished courses by passing practise assignment and theory exam. After graduation, continue improving on Spring and React, also trying to get familiar with BI and QA technologies. I'm looking for fresh career start in a intern/entry/junior position.
